Not Christians Alone.

The policy of declining dormitory accommodations to Jews, and in some cases, to Catholics, was sharply denounced by Dr. McDaniel.

"The Young Men's Christian Christion Association," he said, "is not ex-clusively for Christians. It has 'Christian' in its name, but it is not present as a term of limitation. It is not intended for Christians alone any more than Richmond College, which has a Baptist charter, is intended for the teaching of Baptists alone or Chris-tians alone. It is intended for Jew

Men Engage in Hard Practice in Anticipation of Game Next Saturday.

The Blues' football squad was out for practice Saturday afternoon on Richmond College campus, with the largest number of candidates of the season-twenty-two present. Coach Sitterding put the men through two hours' of hard work, and the team stood it in fine shape, showing what splendid condition the men are in.

The afternoon's work was started by punting practice, and this was followed by Richardson punting to the squad, and the ends in turn running down field with the ball and tackling. Considerable speed was shown by most of the candidates for end, and some splendid tackles were made, showing the instructions of former seasons were well remembered. The squad was then divided into two teams, which scrimmaged for nearly an hour, although neither side showed any material advantage over the other.
